INCLUSIVE CAREERS NEWSLETTER

Happy 2022!

This edition focuses on info
and resources to help pupils and their families weigh up post-16 options available locally and relating choices to long term goals.

In addition to this we got really excited about a recent webinar produced delivered by Microsoft UK in partnership with Nasen.

We have also included examples of projects we facilitated over the previous term thanks to our fantastic volunteers.

Finally, we added some dates for your brand new 2022 diaries and a final note explaining our views on the use of the words "work" and "career" within SEND settings. We hope you will enjoy the read and don't hesitate to get back to us with your feedback.

Choices and Transitions

Over the next few months many pupils will decide their next step.

Disability Rights UK is hosting an online Conference - Get Ahead: Post-16 options for Disabled young people - on the 22nd of February and inviting educators, support providers and families of young disabled people to join. The event, delivered via Zoom, will start at 9am and it's free to join. You can register by following the link below:

CPD - Explore Accessibility Tools freely available with Microsoft 365- Webinar

Over this term, we definitively suggest to invest one hour of your CPD time in watching the recording of this webinar. Launched in November 2021 as a result of a collaboration between Microsoft UK and Nasen, this is free of charge and you only have to register with Nasen and create a log in in order to access the video.

The link is also available on our website Accessibility tools in Microsoft 365 | Nasen

Be Inspired

Over the past months, we collaborated with Access Cornwall (a project started by Emma and Vicky, two of our amazing Enterprise Advisers) to create three videos, providing an insight of post 16 settings. As a result, George, one of their fantastic interns, visited three post 16 provisions catering for SEND students to find out about students life in those settings. Check out the video filmed with Nancealverne School! Post 16 at Nancealverne School - YouTube

PS: If your school have a post 16 provision and you would like to get your pupils involved in a video production project, please get in touch!

Events and dates for your diary

- 4th of May- My Skills My Future Event

The venue (The Pavillion Centre, Royal Cornwall Showground- Wadebridge) is now booked! We are proceeding with the event planning and will keep you posted.

- 15th of March- (dis)Ability Inclusion Community of Practice meeting

this is a TBC and invite will be sent out soon.

- Neurodiversity Week 2022 (21-27 March)

According to the UK Department of Education, 15% of students in the United Kingdom have a learning difference (a statistic that is likely to be overly conservative).

Our views on the use of the word "Career" in a SEND context

As a Hub we are standing by CEC intent statement to work with schools, colleges and employers to help every young person find their best next step.

We understand the use of terms such as "Career" or "Work" in a SEND setting context can be a controversial matter and in some instances feel uncomfortable to address. As this is something brought to our attention from time to time, we feel the need to further explain our views.

When discussing individual cases, we totally trust your professional judgement and expertise in preparing your pupils for adulthood and liaising with their families to achieve the best outcome for our young people.

This said, we believe that by leaving out the terms mentioned above from the curriculum we would fall short in meeting the rights of those young people who might aspire to work and/or achieve a career if exposed to those options.

We are here to raise aspirations of our young people and we believe this can't be achieved by withholding information.
